Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Equity markets are subject to many factors, including economic conditions, government regulations, market sentiment, local and international political events, and environmental and technological issues that may impact return and volatility. Real estate investment options are subject to risks associated with credit, liquidity, interest rate fluctuation, adverse general and local economic conditions, and decreases in real estate values and occupancy rates. International and global investing involves greater risks such as currency fluctuations, political/social instability and differing accounting standards.

This material covers general information only and does not take account of any investor's investment objectives or financial situation and should not be construed as specific investment advice, a recommendation, or be relied on in any way as a guarantee, promise, forecast or prediction of future events regarding an investment or the markets in general. The opinions and predictions expressed are subject to change without prior notice. FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed NTR Index covers both the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Equity REITs Index and the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed ex-U.S. Index. Designed to track the performance of listed real estate companies and REITs worldwide, the series acts as a performance measure of the overall market. In reports issued prior to 10 January 2014, the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Real Estate GTR Index was used for all time periods. The benchmark was changed to be more representative of the composite strategy. Information regarding the comparison to both versions of the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Index is available upon request.

Composite performance results are based on fully discretionary accounts under management, including those accounts no longer with the firm. Gross performance shown does not reflect the deduction of investment management fees and certain transaction costs, which will reduce portfolio performance. Net performance results reflect a reduction for investment advisory fees based on the firm's applicable asset management fee schedule. Effective March 2021, composite net performance is calculated using the highest applicable fee as shown in the composite fee schedule. Prior to March 2021, composite net returns were derived based the aggregation of underlying portfolios net returns that were either calculated by applying actual client fees for non-affiliated clients or a model tiered fee schedule for affiliated clients, unless otherwise noted. Composite net returns after January 1, 2011, are inclusive of performance-based fees (where applicable). Performance-based fees are accounted for on a cash basis. Prior to January 2003 certain commingled funds which returns may be utilized in a Composite's performance track record had net returns that reflected a deduction for administrative fees in addition to direct trading expenses and investment management fees. Therefore, the average fees will be higher during these time periods.

Each portfolio included in the composite is managed according to its own individual investment restrictions and limitations and therefore their characteristics may vary from those of the Representative Portfolio shown. Portfolio performance, characteristics and volatility may differ from the benchmark shown. Holdings and weightings are subject to change daily.
