²Weighted average

Active share: Measures how much different portfolio weights in securities are from benchmark weights. The higher the active share, the more the portfolio differs from the benchmark. Standard deviation: Measures how widely portfolio returns have varied. Alpha: The difference between an investment's actual returns and its expected performance, given its level of risk (as measured by beta).

An unconstrained growth strategy that benefits from unbiased original idea generation priced at attractive valuations

- Decisions driven purely by objective data, fact-based company fundamentals, and the belief that market leaders share common characteristics.
- Isolates companies that exhibit high earnings, high growth, rising price trends and improving analyst expectations, but which remain undervalued by the market.
- With no country, region or sector bias, the pure bottom-up approach allows more efficient allocations to the most attractive opportunities.

Emerging market equities can potentially add attractively valued growth

Why allocate to a portfolio:

- Low correlation historically to other major asset classes. A satellite alpha generator that complements traditional asset classes.
- Exceptional style fidelity. Consistent approach that removes the potential for style drift, allowing for consistent style allocations.
- Actively avoids company-driven narratives. Instead of talking to management, we prefer to deduce our own narrative by looking at the numbers.
- High-quality EM companies, available at a discount. Relative valuations indicate that there are plenty of high-quality growth companies in EM that are trading at a substantial discount to the U.S. market.

⁶ MSCI Emerging Markets NTR Index measures equity market performance in the global emerging markets. It consists of 26 emerging market countries in Europe, Latin America and the Pacific Basin.

⁷ Index performance information reflects no deduction for fees, expenses, or taxes. Indices are unmanaged and individuals cannot invest directly in an index.

⁸ Net Total Return (NTR) includes dividends after the deduction of withholding taxes.

⁹ Morningstar percentile rankings are based on total returns and do not reflect the inclusion of sales charges. If sales charges were reflected, rankings could be lower.

¹⁰ The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or “star rating,” is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product’s monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. Morningstar ratings do not reflect the inclusion of sales charges. If sales charges were reflected, ratings could be lower.

¹¹ The net expense ratio reflects contractual expense limits, if any, which may lower net expenses and cause the gross and net expense ratios to differ. In such cases a date is listed through which expense limits are expected to apply; however, Principal Funds and the investment adviser may mutually agree to terminate the expense limits prior to the end of the period. Returns displayed are based on net total investment expense.

Returns shown for periods of less than one year are not annualized.
