Our “active” advantage

- All real estate securities strategies are actively managed and leverage a rigorous, in-depth fundamental research process to identify stock mispricings.
- Alpha generation is sourced from the bottom-up stock selection and the unique insights from the firm’s leading global real estate platform is a key input when analyzing real estate trends.

What are listed REITs?

Real estate investment trusts (REITs), and other companies like REITs, own, operate, or finance income producing properties—from data centers and self-storage to apartments. These companies generate rental income from tenants that occupy space.

Listed REITs offer investors the ability to invest in an illiquid real estate asset class but in a liquid fashion—through the purchase of publicly traded equity shares of a corporation that owns properties.

Flagship listed real estate securities strategies:

	U.S. total return	Global total return
Investment objective	Both strategies offer diversified exposure to institutional real estate market through the investment of listed real estate securities. Portfolios are designed to deliver consistent and attractive risk-adjusted excess total returns (relative to index) over a market cycle.
Investment style	A patient, disciplined approach that emphasizes deep fundamental analysis and a preference for higher quality companies trading at the right price (QARP).
Benchmark(s)	FTSE NAREIT All Equity REIT Index (primary) FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index MSCI U.S. REIT Index	FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed NTR Index

A wide array of listed real estate securities strategies available, including customized options for individually managed accounts⁽⁴⁾:

	Strategy description	Value proposition	Benchmark
Global Growth and Income	Higher tracking error strategy with diversified styles to meet dual investment objectives. Primary objective is excess total returns but excess income is an important secondary consideration.	Above average income return and attractive excess total returns over the long term.	FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed NTR Index
Global Concentrated	Higher tracking error strategy with concentrated focus on fewer holdings.	Higher alpha potential but excess returns could be more volatile.	FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed NTR Index
Global Structural Opportunities	Unique focus on property sectors with favorable long-term structural demand drivers and avoiding sectors facing structural headwinds.	A strategic allocation to sectors that are likely to exhibit above average growth due to secular changes.	FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Extended ex-Office, Retail, Lodging/Resorts NTR Index
Global High Yield	Strategy seeks to achieve 5% or greater income return by investing in real estate securities	A high dividend income target from an equity portfolio	Benchmark unaware
Global ex US	Diversified exposure across the global ex-U.S. market through the investment of listed real estate securities	Portfolios are designed to deliver consistent and attractive risk-adjusted excess total returns over a market cycle.	FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed ex U.S. Index
U.S. REIT Plus	Diversified U.S. REIT portfolio with the latitude to invest outside the U.S.	U.S. REIT portfolio enhanced with selective opportunities outside the U.S. for higher potential returns.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • FTSE NAREIT All Equity REIT Index • FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index • MSCI US REIT Index
Real Estate Completion (Global or U.S.)	Customized portfolio construction based on client needs to gain exposure to specific sectors or markets.	A real estate investor can 'complete' their overall portfolio with targeted listed REIT exposures.	Custom index or benchmark unaware

Risk Considerations

Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against a loss. Real estate investment options are subject to some risks inherent in real estate and real estate investment trusts (REITs), such as risks associated with general and local economic conditions. Investing in REITs involves special risks, including interest rate fluctuation, credit risks, and liquidity risks, including interest conditions on real estate values and occupancy rates.
