Government Obligations Percentage

A portion of the dividends paid by the following funds during 2023 was derived from investments in obligations of the U.S. government or its agencies. Some of these dividends may be exempt from state and local taxes depending on the tax laws of your individual state or local taxing authority. Some states treat income from federal agency obligations differently than income from direct federal obligations.

Qualified Dividends & Dividends Received Deduction

Qualified Dividend Income ("QDI"): QDI received and distributed by a fund is eligible to be taxed at lower rates. QDI is generally distributed from domestic corporations and certain qualified foreign corporations that meet certain holding requirements. The ordinary dividends that may qualify for the lower tax rates are shown in Box 1b of Form 1099-DIV. Shareholders must meet the holding period requirement to qualify for the lower ordinary dividend tax rates. To be eligible to treat all or a portion of the fund's dividend as qualified, a shareholder must have held the fund's shares for at least 61 days during the 121-day period surrounding the ex-dividend date. For additional information, see IRS Publication 550 at www.irs.gov.

Dividends Received Deduction ("DRD"): For corporate shareholders, the percentage of ordinary income distributions* for 2023, that qualifies for the DRD is as follows:

Ticker	Fund	QDI	DRD

Foreign Tax

Foreign source income is the income earned by a fund from investments in foreign securities. Many countries impose a tax on income earned by investors beyond their borders. These taxes are paid by the fund. The following funds have elected to pass-through to shareholders the foreign taxes paid. Accordingly, this permits a shareholder to either take a federal income tax credit or a deduction from gross income. The amount of foreign tax credit that is utilized by a shareholder may be limited due to general credit limitation rules as well as a reduction in foreign source income associated with qualified dividend income. The percentage of the foreign source income that is qualified dividend income is shown in the Qualified Dividend Income table of this 2023 Tax Filing Information. Refer to the IRS Form 1116 instructions for additional information regarding foreign tax credits.

The information below summarizes the portion of income that was derived from foreign sources with regard to the applicable fund.
